

DEFENSE DAY AT CAPITAL GRAND DEMONSTRATION

President and Wife and Pershing in Re- viewing Stand

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—An unbroken army of plain American citizens tramped by a reviewing stand here today to be greeted by the plain citizen who is commander-in-chief of all the armed forces of the nation—the president.

For an hour and a half the tide of marching men flowed up Pennsylvania avenue with the orderly, steady, unbroken movement of a great river. It was fringed with the uniforms of the regulars, national guardsmen, marines and sailors who gave the spectacle a little of the color of a military ceremony and was supplemented by groups of patriotic women. The route lay up Pennsylvania avenue from the capital to the great Ellipse south of the white house where the marchers formed in a solid mass to hear Secretary Weeks and General Pershing speak to them of what it all meant and what their cooperation spelled in safeguarding the nation. At one side stood the reviewing stand with a great cluster of amplifiers. There President and Mrs. Coolidge stood all the time the column was passing. Flanked by Secretary Weeks and General Pershing and with other high government officials.

The parade was punctuated by the moment. Behind the police escort came the officers of the general staff. They were followed by the staff reservists, many in civilian clothing, and then the regulars, trim, efficient, business like with equipment shining. There were groups of civilians among the regular commands, illustrating how much the standing army must be expanded for war need. Infantry, cavalry and artillery rolled by and their appearance and bearing delighted the president's eye, he said to those about him.

Then came the National Guard. More civilians were needed here to fill out the ranks. Behind these were the organized reserve units assigned to the capital. Behind the military formations were the auxiliary agencies, the nurse corps, the Red Cross and many others.

When the last unit had moved by to its place on the Ellipse the President and Mrs. Coolidge returned to the white house. Secretary Weeks and General Pershing stayed to express their gratitude to the waiting host.

The war secretary said when he realized that other cities and communities all over the United States had held similar demonstrations he did not hesitate to say that "we come nearer having adequate national defense than ever before during peace."

Mr. Weeks expressed the hope that citizen's committees which conducted tests today thruout the country would become continuing organizations in their communities, adding that the defense test might well be repeated at frequent and definite periods.

General Pershing told his marchers that "without your support the country would soon drop back into our pre-war attitude of inaction and neglect."

General Pershing also declared that the defense test was not a show of strength aimed at any power," asserting that any such contention was baseless, not to say childish.

Before the parade the trio of American world gliding planes, piloted by the officers who have carried them practically around the world against every obstacle, circled over the city in an aerial parade of their own in honor of defense day. They later rode in machines in the marching column and applause greeted them along the way as evidence of the pride and admiration of their fellow Americans in their achievements. As they passed the reviewing stand, President and Mrs. Coolidge both singled them out for greeting with smiles and waves of the hand.

16,000,000 PERSONS RESPONDED TO CALL ISSUED DEFENSE DAY

Corps Commanders Declare Demonstration Highly Successful

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—Reports tonight to the war department from the nine corps area headquarters indicated an aggregate civilian participation of more than 16,000,000 in defense day exercises over the country. These included both the one day volunteers who turned out to fill up the ranks of regular army, national guard and organized reserves, and also the civilians who otherwise took part in parades and exercises, exclusive of the crowds along the streets which watched the demonstrations.

Corps area commanders were unanimous in declaring the day highly successful and asserting that the public generally was enthusiastic in the endorsement of the national defense program. A summary of the reports received at the department said they showed that "more than 16,742,781 persons had participated and that there have been 6,535 local demonstrations."

"Present indications are that all over the country communities have taken great interest in the test and have had excellent demonstrations," the statement added. "The results obtained are highly satisfactory to the department."

The figures received from corps area centers in the preliminary reports did not permit of an accurate estimate of the total one day strength of the military units, although it was indicated that most of them had been filled to war strength or nearly so which would mean approximately two million men enrolled. The department was also advised that 40,000 nurses were available for emergency duty and "that more than 75 percent of them reported during the day."

In concluding the defense program tonight in radio addresses, Secretary Weeks and General Pershing spoke over telephone lines connecting over 33,000 miles of wire from coast to coast, their remarks being picked up for radio broadcasting at points from New York to San Francisco so that the entire country from coast to coast and from border to border was reached. It has been estimated that not less than twenty million persons listened in on these addresses which were devoted to expressions of gratification over the loyal cooperation the war department had received in working out its defense test plan.

At the conclusion of his brief remarks dealing with the defense test exercises, Secretary Weeks introduced General Pershing with a tribute to the services rendered to his country by the retiring general of the armies.

BOTH LAND AND SEA DEFENSE IS URGED BY DAVIS

U. S. Cannot Discard Sword With Other Scabbards Full

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Sept. 11. (AP)—Adequate national defense, particularly on the seas was urged here tonight by John W. Davis, the Democratic presidential candidate in an address dealing in part with defense day.

"America cannot throw away the sword when other scabbards are not empty," Mr. Davis said, adding, that "reasonable provisions for national defense is one of the first duties of the state."

With equal emphasis he urged that America work for the peace of the world, declaring the duty and interest of the country alike demanded "exertion in the cause of peace no less courageous than valor in the time of war."

Calling attention that this day had been one for taking stock of a portion of the national defense Mr. Davis told his audience that the United States would make a mistake if it thought in terms only of land armament, that the defense of the country lies first of all upon the sea. Mr. Davis assailed the administration for permitting American naval strength to fall below the 5-5-3 ratio provided by the Washington arms conference treaty.

At the outset Mr. Davis called attention that this is the anniversary of the battle of St. Mihel and also the day of the retirement of General Pershing from the active list of the army.

Praising Pershing's services, the Democratic nominee said the general should "be made to know that he carries with him, the respect, the admiration and gratitude of his countrymen."

"We make use of this anniversary," Mr. Davis said, "to take stock of a portion of our national defense. We are inspecting our military equipments and calling up for review those who constitute our regular and our citizen army. We cannot throw away the sword when other scabbards are not empty and reasonable provision for the national defense is one of the first duties of the state."

"We shall make a mistake, moreover, if we think of defense solely in terms of our land armament. That it is necessary to one will deny but guarded as we are by the oceans and shielded by our mountains, the defense of America lies first of all upon the sea. So long as an adequate navy guards our coasts we need not fear the coming of an invader."

5-5-3 Ratio

"At the Washington conference on disarmament we accepted a definite ratio in the matter of capital battleship, of five, five, and three as between Great Britain, America and Japan. It starts an American to learn from the lips of the secretary of the navy himself, that those in power have permitted America's actual strength in battleship to fall to the figure of four or below."

"When that conference ended, the public, I think, gathered the impression that equality in naval equipment between Great Britain and America was assured and American superiority over Japan at the ratio of five to three was fixed for the next ten years. I do not charge that this impression was the result of any intentional misrepresentation but the American public is entitled to know that that conference dealt in no way with modern cruisers with submarines and that against forty four modern cruisers owned by Great Britain and twenty five by Japan, the United States has but ten; and that in ocean-going submarines and airplanes carriers our position is still more disadvantageous. We must not let praise for the good intent that lay behind the Washington conference blind us to the partial and inadequate character of its scope and results."

"Make no mistake—war cannot be prevented by the good will of any single power nor matter how just or generous. It cannot, as we have seen and learned be warded off by any armament, however large. Neither cannot it be destroyed merely by outlawing certain of its implements or lessening martial equipment. It can be banished from the life of nations only by concerted effort. The duty and the interest of America alike demand exertion in the cause of peace no less courageous than valor in time of war."

Chinese Troops Are Massed For Battle

SHANGHAI, Sept. 13. (AP)—Chang Tso-Lin's main forces, comprising three divisions (about 37,500 men) and twenty mixed brigades (about 107,600 men) are being held in readiness to move against Chihli, according to a seemingly reliable report from Mukden, Manchuria, received early today.

The arsenal at Mukden, the report said, is working overtime with conscripted labor to turn out munitions for the Manchurian war lord's proposed assault on Peking and the allies of the Wu Pei-Fu, military dictator in the Chinese capital.

The Manchurian forces were said to be under the command of General Li Ching-Ling, with Chang Tso-Lin's own son, General Chang Hsueh-Liang as second in command.

The report did not give a reason for the inaction of the Manchurian troops, but it was supposed here, on the basis of reports received yesterday, that transportation arrangements had not been completed.

FASCIST DEPUTY IS KILLED BY ITALIAN AS RETALIATORY ACT

Assassin Committed Crime to Avenge the Death of Matteotti

ROME, Sept. 11. (AP)—Italy suffered another political crime—the second of this summer—in the assassination today of Armando Casalini, a fascist deputy, by a young carpenter named Giovanni Corvi, who when questioned by the police, declared that he committed the deed "to avenge my brother in idealism, Matteotti."

Coming at a time when the country is particularly nervous over the political situation, the assassination has produced a grave impression. The newspapers lost no time in appealing to the population to remain calm lest the country be plunged into further bloodshed. The council of ministers took immediate measures to maintain order and prevent reprisals.

The shooting of Deputy Casalini took place about 10 o'clock this morning while he was riding in a street car from his home in a suburb, accompanied by his 14 year old daughter. The assassin leaped into the car, pulled an automatic pistol from his pocket and fired three times at close range. Two of the bullets lodged in the deputy's head. He crumpled in his seat while Corvi started to run. He was pursued and arrested.

Casalini died a half hour later without gaining consciousness. Casalini was one of the youngest deputies, having been born in 1893. He was director of a number of important commercial firms and from the inception of fascism was one of its most popular supporters.

MYSTERY OF BRANDED MAN STILL UNSOLVED

WAUKEGON, Ill., Sept. 12. (AP)—After a twelve day investigation, Policeman Paul Johnson of Winthrop Harbor, Ill., today said the binding and marking of Thomas Stolpha, of Cudahy, Wis., was still a mystery. Stolpha was found bound in a partly built bungalow on August 31, with characters at first thought to be "K. K." on his breast but which policeman Johnson says resembled the figures "22."

He told the policeman he thought several negroes attacked him in Detroit, beat him, bound and gagged him and branded him with a hot wire. He said Stolpha appeared to be suffering from thirst and hunger. He could not have bound himself, in the opinion of Johnson.

After being cared for at a hospital Stolpha was taken back to his home at Cudahy, Wis.

Official communiques of the Kiangsu forces attacking Shanghai received this morning from their headquarters at Nanking, the Kiangsu capital, were eloquently lacking in the previously expressed optimism of speedy victory, although still indicating confidence in the ultimate success of the attacking armies.

Other reports from Kiangsu sources in Suchow, in the northern part of the province, told of continued advances of the Chekiang troops, fighting northward thru the hills west of Tai Lake, and stated that there had been heavy diversions of Kiangsu troops in the direction of Iking, in that district. A previous report from Chekiang headquarters near here told of the capture of the town of Iking, which is about 100 miles west of Shanghai, and surrender near there of two battalions of Kiangsu troops.

Shanghai was quiet this morning but weather having brought a lull to fighting in the immediate vicinity of the city.

PRESIDENT EXPECTS TO MAKE SPEECH AT COMING CELEBRATION

Will Attend 150th Anniversary of Continental Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—President Coolidge expects to speak in Philadelphia on the night of September 25 at the exercises celebrating the 150th anniversary of the meeting of the first Continental Congress although he has not yet definitely accepted the invitation.

The president also made it known today that he expects to announce his decision very soon on the tariff commission report on sugar duties, a reduction in which is understood to have been recommended by a majority of the commission.

Mr. Coolidge expects to confine his speaking engagements to occasions to which he has been invited as president and not to make any political speaking tour.

In this connection he told friends today, many such invitations have been received but he had no plans for any other address outside the city. Some of his advisers, however, consider it likely that the president will accept some of the invitations he has received for participation in exercises in middlewestern cities.

Several visitors were received at the white house by Mr. Coolidge this morning many bringing further enthusiastic reports on the presidential situation.

George E. Foss, former representative from Illinois was a guest of Mr. Coolidge at lunch today. He said Illinois appeared strong for the Republican ticket. He likewise was encouraged over the Maine elections and the situation in the east having made several speeches in that section.

BRITISH OFFER FLEET IN PEACE PROPOSAL

GENEVA, Sept. 12. (AP)—Great Britain's conditional offer to place her fleet at the disposal of the league of nations in order to outlaw war and to put down aggressor states, continued today to create a sensation.

The opinion was heard in many quarters that the British suggestion would immediately strengthen the league as a mechanism to keep the peace, although representatives of some so-called neutral states with sea coasts withheld judgment. Meantime the French delegation tried to clear up their position on the question of changing the unanimity rule in the council. Spokesmen for the delegation said there was no intention of trying to amend the covenant, which requires unanimous vote of the council at all meetings except those at which another arrangement is stipulated, but that it was thought that clarification of paragraph 7 Article XV, was necessary. This paragraph says that, if the council fails to obtain unanimity on a question as to how to handle a specific dispute, then the members of the council reserve the right to take such action as they deem necessary to maintain right and justice.

The youths, accustomed to elaborate dinners partook today of roast beef, stewed tomatoes, potatoe gravy and bread. They had no comment to make on the prison menu, guards said. Tomorrow morning, before going to work, they with the other prisoners will attend the usual Saturday morning picture show. Immediately afterward they will be taken to their work and will probably not have another opportunity to converse until next Fourth of July when the prisoners are allowed to mingle and talk on the grounds.

DAWES REPORTS AS RESERVE OFFICER

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 12. (AP)—Defense Day regulations prescribed by the war department for members of the Officers' Reserve Corps were carried out today by Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee for vice president. Mr. Dawes, who is a brigadier general of engineer in the Officers' Reserve, reported early in the day to Major General Harry C. Hale, commander of the sixth army corps area, United States Army, following out the instructions given by the war department to all reserve officers.

Tonight the Republican vice-presidential candidate marched with the Evanston Post of the American Legion, of which he is a member, in a Defense Day parade.

FRANK'S SLAYERS GO THRU FIRST DAY IN PRISON

Both Boys Promise Prison Official Full Obedience

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 12. (AP)—Richard Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, state prisoners No. 9306 and 9305 spent their first day in the Joliet penitentiary where they have been sentenced to spend the rest of their lives, in solitary confinement, except for participation with 1,200 other prisoners in a defense day program.

Tomorrow No. 9305 and No. 9306 as they are already known to guards will go to work. Loeb in the cabinet making section of the furniture factory and Leopold in the rattan section. When they are assigned to their work they will bid one another good bye probably for the greater part of a year. While the two youths who have been boon companions may see one another on the prison grounds or during meal times, they will not be allowed to speak and will be confined in different sections of the old gray stone building.

The boys also had their last talk with newspapermen today according to Warden John L. Whitman who allowed reporters to see the boys for five minutes but said it would be the last time they will be permitted to talk. The slayers of Young Robert Franks, however, did not avail themselves of the privilege.

Up at Six o'clock

They were told to get up at six o'clock, were dressed in regulation blue denim prison suits and taken to the prison barber who cropped their long hair. Later in the day they were photographed. Bertillon measurements were taken and they were given instructions regarding prison regulations.

"Life here is just what you make it," a prison official informed them and both youths hastened to assert that they wanted to make the most of it and expected to try hard.

Warden Whitman said the prison authorities would begin at once to teach the boys the routine and regulations of the penitentiary.

"We will try to remodel and reshape their characters," the warden said, adding that in this process there must be no communication with the outside. The youths will be able to see relatives twice a month for periods of half an hour and can write one letter each two weeks.

In the defense day exercise, the boys were marched in with other prisoners and seated near the center of the assembly hall. They listened to singing by a prison choir, heard the prison band give a concert and gave attention to a defense day address by the Rev. Arthur Hamilton, prison chaplain. Leopold gazed at the floor most of the time, while Loeb also took little interest in the proceedings. Fellow prisoners, under the rules, were not allowed to turn about and gaze at them but as the 1,200 men passed out many covert glances were directed at the two youths.

Warden Whitman said he had received a letter from Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for the two millionaires' sons asking that the boys be showed some consideration on account of their youth, although their attorney made it clear he asked no special favors for them. The warden said they would not be brought into contact with criminals of years standing and added that for the present they will be placed in cells by themselves.

The youths, accustomed to elaborate dinners partook today of roast beef, stewed tomatoes, potatoe gravy and bread. They had no comment to make on the prison menu, guards said. Tomorrow morning, before going to work, they with the other prisoners will attend the usual Saturday morning picture show. Immediately afterward they will be taken to their work and will probably not have another opportunity to converse until next Fourth of July when the prisoners are allowed to mingle and talk on the grounds.

GENERAL PERSHING BIDS FAREWELL TO COMRADES OF ARMY

In Phone Message Tells Gen- erals Latch String Is Always Out

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—John J. Pershing made a soldierly farewell tonight to comrades of the army to which he has given all the active years of his life.

Tomorrow, at noon, on the sixty-fourth anniversary of his birth, he will pass automatically to the retired list. To the last moment tonight he worked hard and long for the cause of national defense, to which he turned with single minded vision when the great army he commanded in France had passed back to civil life, its victory achieved.

There will go to the nation presently an executive order signed by the president telling of this soldier's retirement and his services to the flag. It is a signal honor reserved for soldiers who reach the highest rank, a friendly parting touch of official appreciation. But tonight it was to old friends, army comrades some of them, since cadet days at West Point, and thru them to the rank and file of the regular forces, that Pershing said "good bye, his words being carried over thousands of miles of telephone wires and borne from coast to coast and border to border by radio to listeners everywhere.

Brigadier General John J. Carty of the Officers' Reserve Corps, when the formal defense day speaking was done, told General Pershing the day would be incomplete without a test of America's electrical communications. He turned to the telephone and called in succession points on a 3,000 mile stretch from Washington to New York, and thence to San Francisco.

The responses were instantaneous, and then he called the roll of corps areas back from west to east. Major generals in command replied in person. From each General Pershing sought news of the day. They answered with encouraging reports, each enthusiastic, and to each Pershing gave his personal thanks and congratulations.

Then Pershing bade them farewell.

There was nothing to regret in honorable retirement, he said, although there was something of sadness in the breaking of old ties and comradeship of long years in the service. But he reminded the generals that they too, soon would pass the age line, adding cordially:

"And, remember, my latch string will be always out for you."

That was Pershing's spoken farewell to the army.

PETITION DECLARES LINCOLN IS INSANE

AURORA, Ill., Sept. 11. (AP)

Attorneys for Warren J. Lincoln confessed murder of his wife and her brother, Byron L. Shoup, today filed a petition in contention of insanity before Judge John Newhall, setting forth that Lincoln is insane and therefore should not be tried for the double murder.

Trial on the homicide charge was to have started Monday but in its place Judge Newhall will conduct a hearing on the insanity petition and will call a jury to hear evidence on the petition early in October. Meanwhile the murder charge will rest.

The insanity petition contains the report of Dr. H. S. Halbert, alienist for the defense in the Leopold and Loeb hearing in Chicago who was appointed by the court to inquire into Lincoln's mental condition on behalf of the defense.

ONE AVIATOR KILLED AND ANOTHER HURT

SHELBYVILLE, Ill., Sept. 12. (AP)—Morle Niles, aged 21, was instantly killed and M. S. Michael seriously injured about 4 o'clock this afternoon when the plane in which they were riding crashed near this city.

The plane owned and piloted by Michael was about four hundred feet in the air when one of the controls jammed. The ship went into a nosedive and crashed. Niles was instantly killed while Michael suffered a badly broken leg and an injury to his hip. He was taken to Shelby Memorial Hospital. It is not thought that his injuries will prove fatal. The two men had been circling about the city during the afternoon. Michaels who owned the plane, saw service in the world war and was a flying enthusiast.

Parkin, referee in bankruptcy who has supervised affairs of the homing company for the past seven months. Sale of the Decatur, Ill., plant, is now being negotiated.

LABOR DECLARES DAWES IS PEER OF DEMAGOGUES

His Connection With Bank Scandal Told at Peoria Meeting

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 12. (AP)—A declaration entitled "The Truth About Charles G. Dawes, Republican Candidate for Vice-President," reviewing his alleged connection with the defunct LaSalle Street Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and naming him as "a demagogue who has no peer in American politics" was adopted by the state convention of the Illinois Federation of Labor here this afternoon.

Only three votes were cast against the committee's report and these were occasioned by the fact that the Republican candidate was classed with William Z. Foster, the workers' party candidate for president, as an uncompromising enemy of the American Federation of Labor. One of the three protested that Foster was "an honorable man" and that the committee had exceeded its authority to include a criticism of him.

Delivering the report, Chairman George Slater of Chicago, first characterized Dawes as chairman of the "Minute Men of the Constitution" which he said was a fascist movement advocating the "open shop."

He added that Dawes was the chief spokesman for the "open shop" that visited the late President Harding on his vacation in Florida. Various Defense Day was observed with appropriateness in Jacksonville. The parade and the general program both gave evidence of the understanding of the people that they were not advocating militarism, but instead were giving some thought to preparedness, taking stock of the resources and man power of the community.

Such a program, arranged within a few days' time, by citizens in a willing acquiescence to the suggestion from Washington, made for peace rather than war. The people of this nation do not believe in wars and do not want wars. The showing made in Jacksonville yesterday and in thousands and thousands of other cities and towns throughout the country will serve to impress other nations of the possibilities there are here for defense. The observance of Defense Day could properly be listed with peace propaganda.

Jacksonville people are getting a better understanding every week about the meaning of hard roads. The road leading east and west thru Jacksonville brings its big daily quota of tourists, many of whom stop here and become patrons of the stores. As the road is extended the number of tourists will increase, and what is true of the east and west road is going to apply to the road from the south within a very few months.

MAN'S LIFE PASSED BY

Before cold weather comes, or at least in the early part of 1925, there will be a hard road reaching all the way from Jacksonville to St. Louis.

The increasing knowledge of the benefits of hard roads is also increasing interest in the $100,000,000 bond issue that Governor Small had advocated, and people are going to vote for the measure because of the benefit it will bring to them individually and to the whole state of Illinois.

General Dawes talked right from the shoulder, as he always does in his first address in Wisconsin, when he termed Senator LaFollette the arch demagogue and branded the LaFollette movement as an attack on the constitution of the United States. He made special reference to the LaFollette program of delegating to congress the power to set aside supreme court decisions.

As an example of the fickleness of the public mind and the danger there would be in such a procedure, Gen. Dawes turned back in the book of history and cited the case of Socrates. Over in Greece the great philosopher was put to death when he was sentenced to drink the poison cup of hemlock. Just a year later public opinion had so changed that the Greeks built a monument to Socrates.

The pendulum of public opinion swings just as quickly today as it did thousands of years ago.

Some time ago state road officials announced that more of the newly laid hard road west of the city would be opened for use in time for the state fair. To make assurance doubly sure, T. M. Tomlinson, one of the leading good roads boosters of the county, yesterday made a trip to Winchester for an interview with State Engineer Elder who is in charge of the construction work.

Mr. Elder advised that the new road from Elbach's corner, about two miles west of Riggston, to the joining of the strip previously laid to a point just north of Lynnville will be thrown open for public use next Wednesday. It was the intention to open this strip today, but bad weather and rain have badly handicapped progress and it was found that for the benefit of the road it would be necessary to delay the opening until Wednesday. Mr. Elder also stated that it was expected to have the full strip of road between Jacksonville and Winchester completed within the next three weeks, thus giving an all concrete road all the way to Pittsfield.

Mr. Tomlinson was also advised that the detour in leaving Winchester for Jacksonville would be changed by Wednesday, the route leading by the old coal shaft and thence north until reaching the hard road about one and one-half miles west of Riggston. The signs will be placed by the state prior to that time.

South of Jacksonville, workmen on the forms at the Henry cemetery south of Woodson and concrete laying in that vicinity is expected to begin today. The grading is practically completed into Woodson and nothing is seen to hinder rapid laying of the strip toward Jacksonville.

ONE FORM OF MADNESS

BY ALBERT APPLE

A "boy robber," arrested, says he staged a score of holdups and robberies to get material for magazine stories he intended to write. His idea was to watch the reactions of human nature confronted by a pistol, then work his observations into fiction.

Unless this lad is kidding the police, he is in earnest. In which event, he appears to have a form of the malady known as graphomania.

Graphomania is a definite and recognized form of insanity. The victim has "the urge to write," just as the kleptomaniac has "the urge to steal."

Unfortunately, the graphomaniac usually turns out nothing but drivel. Still more sadly, he occasionally finds a market for it. In your reading you've encountered some terribly punk stuff, which strikes the fancy of lunatic holding editors' jobs.

Magazines get fiction manuscripts by the freight carload. The writing business is extremely overcrowded. Despite this competition, there's always a shortage of "the right stuff." Most of the flood of stories come from graphomania.

It's debatable whether all writers aren't graphomania, even the brilliant, capable and successful ones. For writers are like other people fundamentally; writing is a business just as much as selling sausages or repairing cloth; and, to succeed, a man has to be more or less of a monomaniac on the subject to which he devotes his time.

The human brain never appears more fathomless and mysterious than when you try to figure out what makes one man select, say, coal for concentrating his efforts on, while others focus burningly on ice, oranges, cloth, string, and so on.

There's more to it than the fact that the man thinks he can make money out of the commodity that appeals to him hypnotically.

Observe the Webster definition of "mania": "Violent derangement of mind; specifically, a form of insanity marked by emotional exaltation, acceleration of the flow of ideas, and motor restlessness. Excessive excitement or enthusiasm."

If that definition doesn't blanket the conventional formulas for success in life, what does?

Patriotic

A leading army officer said Defense Day was a test of patriotism. Why is it that patriotism is always associated with war? How about peacetime patriotism?

It's quite as important for a man to live for his country as to be ready to die for it. In peace, of course, citizens are less easily stampeded by hysteria into letting the tax spenders run riot.

Alot

Thoret, French aviator, remained soaring in the air over nine hours in a glider, drifting around like a sea gull. He had a motor and propeller aboard for emergency, but they were sealed and not used during the gliding.

These little gliders, operated on the principle of a kite, may become "the craze" within a few years. Properly handled, a glider is about as safe as playing football. You'll own a flying machine of some sort before many years.

Dangerous

Airplane at some of the ocean beaches have been flying low over the bathers to throw a scare into them. One woman was severely injured, struck by an anchor or some other object dangling from a rope attached to the plane. It starts us thinking what a dangerous device the airplane will be in the hands of fools. Autos are bad enough.

When airplanes swarm overhead by the thousands, the garbage and clutter that will shower on our heads will be a fright, unless planes are barred from flying over communities. They could be restricted to "air lanes" or roads, flying traffic cops keeping them there.

WILL OPEN UP MORE HARD ROAD WEDNESDAY

Some time ago state road officials announced that more of the newly laid hard road west of the city would be opened for use in time for the state fair. To make assurance doubly sure, T. M. ## DR. JAMES C. BAKER ADDRESSES CONFERENCE

Director of Religious Instruction at Wesley Foundation Delivers Address at Methodist Conference.

(By C. Morison)

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 12.—The closing of the morning session of Thursday was occupied by a thirty minute address on the "Spiritual Significance of the Century," by Dr. James C. Baker, director of religious instruction at the Wesley Foundation, Urbana. It was devotional, inspirational, over against the waste of war and the worship of material things of the past score of years. The Pentagraph published the address in full.

Dr. Brummitt, editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, of Chicago, used a unique method in putting over his proposition of larger subscriptions to the church paper, in a round table discussion of questions and answers.

The Methodist Social Service had the ear of the public following Dr. Brummitt hour, in two brief addresses on Industrial Experiments and High Standards of Service in Commercial Life, by Mrs. Stöber, of Cincinnati, telling the story of the Nash Manufacturing Company and the principle of the Golden Rule in business. Rev. A. A. Heist on legislation enacted and policies advanced in the last general conference.

Pageant of Rural Religious Education

Before a crowded house, many standing, the Pageant, "Mother Methodism and Her Rural Field," was given by the Champaign-Danville district, Rev. J. H. Singleton of Champaign county church Shiloh in charge. Groups of boys and girls, young people, mothers, and preachers came forward to plead the cause of the often neglected church in the open country while the concluding appeal by John Wesley, in costume, not to neglect the most prolific field of supply for the city church, the foreign and home fields were emphasized. The district superintendent Dr. Byrns of Champaign delivered this original and much needed exhortation. Following this the conference elected officers for the coming year and plan to make more of the opportunity of overcoming the neglect of what has been the strength of Methodism, its country church and its circuit system.

The Children of the Manse

Two thousand people filled the Illinois Wesleyan University gymnasium in the evening to hear Bishop Hughes of Chicago on a theme which has been made a special study of the children of the manse, or the pastors right gift to the world in all lines of endeavor. Bishop McDowell presented the lecture in a witty and charming manner and lamented the fact that the lecturer would have the last word without allowing him opportunity to reply. And the audience appreciated the turn of affairs when the new resident bishop began his response and introduced the theme with his keen and sober serious and eloquent thought. The admission fee of 50c each was used to help defray the local expenses of the two conferences. Dr. Newland of the Central Illinois Conference presided and a fine quartette from the preachers of the same conference gave several selections at the beginning of the exercises.

News and Notes

Rev. W. D. Fairchild of the Mattoon District is slated for the position of secretary of the area office in world service, headquarters in Chicago. Rev. F. A. Hovighurst of Springfield is suggested as the Superintendent of the Bloomington district. So far the name of E. G. Sandmeyer is the only name suggested for the position being made vacant by the time limit of District Superintendent Fairchild.

Many changes in the secondary and minor list of appointments are being made. Three pastors in and about Jacksonville are likely to move, at least so is the rumor. The progress in the business sessions is being made and also approaching a settled state in the Bishop's cabinet.

CELEBRATED MINSTRELS

No company before the public stands the wear and tear of time as well as does The Famous Georgia Minstrels soon to appear in this city. In the hearts of the theatre going public it is always popular. The sub-title "Georgia" has been copied by many, the object being to mislead the public, but this aggregation has never been withdrawn from the stage stage for a single season, and during the thirty three years of its existence it has been kept up to a high standard and this year the management has eclipsed all previous efforts.

The announcement that they will appear at the Grand Theater this afternoon and evening will be welcome news to the minstrel fans.

SUMMONED TO KANSAS

Mrs. David Foster, Mrs. Henry Votmen and Miss Miriam Kenyon have gone to Parsons, Kans., where they were summoned on account of the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. John Aitken.

GO TO CHAMPAIGN

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hart and daughter Fay have gone to Champaign where Miss Fay has a position in the University library and will also carry some student work.

T. Young, freight inspector of the Chicago and Alton was a business caller in Jacksonville Friday.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL AT LITERBERRY LAST NIGHT

Members of one of the classes in the Literberry Christian Sunday school gave an ice cream social at the church Friday night. Quite a liberal patronage was enjoyed in spite of the fact that it was rather a cool evening for the serving of ice cream. As a result of the event a substantial sum will be added to the class treasury.

TRY THIS ONE

TRY your wits on this new puzzle. It's one of a number The Sunday Herald and Examiner is going to print every week for your amusement. To show how it works, here is the solution of one of the definitions given below:

"12-24—A stream in Australia." Now almost any geography or atlas would reveal the fourteen-letter combination "Endavour River," which fits in the squares beginning with
"12" and ending with
"24." Here's another with one of the letters known:
"21-22—The conclusion." In the 22 square you already have the "d" of "Endavour." That leaves
two letters to be found, and it ought not to take long to figure out that the word is "end." There are a few abbreviations and a few words that may require some digging in this Cross-Word, but most of them ought to be found with little trouble. Next Sunday The Herald and Examiner will give you a new puzzle to work on.

Music is a Great Factor in American Life

Instead of being the privilege of the few, music has become an important part of the every-day American life. Fewer professions, if any, promise greater rewards, and no other accomplishment gives greater or more enduring pleasure throughout one's whole life. This is true not only for the student of exceptional talent but for the average student as well.

LOCAL STUDENTS

Notwithstanding the gratifying large local enrollment at the College of Music, to which are added students from many states—we feel that there may be others who do not realize that it is only at the College of Music that a complete musical training can be had in Jacksonville. By this we mean that in addition to the subjects chosen by the student, he is given, even though a beginner, the added advantages of free instruction in those related subjects essential to musical education and enjoyment.
Thus, the student receives correct training and makes more rapid progress.

DEPARTMENT OF YOUNGER

Start your children right. That they will be started right and that later on they will not have to unlearn what they have learned, is one of the things you are sure of at the College of Music. There is not even a financial reason for not starting your child here. Our rates for beginners are as low as $7.50 per semester in class work or private lessons with advanced students. At all stages of this work, the student is given the personal, individual attention of the teacher and of the supervisor of that department as well. By these means our students learn to enjoy music, practice is not a hardship, and the result is that music permanently enriches their lives, instead of being cast aside for temporary, useless fads.

DEPARTMENT OF OLDER

Those who contemplate a musical career should at once take advantage of the training only to be had at the College of Music. We have a constant demand for teachers and music supervisors. Our graduates are filling paying positions North and South. Chautauqua work is another field in which there is big and paying demand.

MANY FREE ADVANTAGES

Absolutely free instruction is given to Junior students in these essential subjects: Harmony, Theory, Ear Training, Sight Singing, Eurythmics, Musical History, and Orchestra Practice.

Fifty public and many private student recitals fit students for public appearance and insure a repertoire of pieces that can be performed from memory. College of Music students have no such excuse as "I do not have my music with me."

JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS

WOMAN SPEAKER SAYS "ISMS" AND VARIOUS PROPAGANDA MUST GO

Mrs. Palmer Tires of Hearing Women Spoken of as Pacifists

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. (AP)—Stamping out of disloyalty and dangerous "isms" by the government was advocated today in a national defense day address by Mrs. George Thomas Palmer, of Springfield, Ill., president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. Speaking at Grant Park, she said in part:

"Some Americans have become so international-minded that they have ceased to have a national consciousness, and I feel that this attitude borders dangerously near disloyalty."

"We wish to have sympathy and understanding with all people and with all nationalities, but our first thought, care and support must be given our own country as it must, in a more limited way be given to our own families and communities."

"I believe that any action which may help to counteract the insidious so-called pacifism which is abroad in the land which can help to awaken our loyalty and patriotism, should be encouraged by every right thinking citizen. It seems to me that such a simple preparedness plan as being demonstrated all over the country today, can help us to keep that wise middle ground which protects us from such militarism as Germany thrust upon the world and the cowardly pacifists of China which is almost her undoing."

"China believes in no centralized government and is a pacifist nation. The papers are full of the result of such an attitude in that country today....."

"Personally, I am getting awfully tired of having it thought that all women succumb to any propaganda which includes the word 'peace' no matter what kind of peace nor how dishonorable that peace may be only the unthinking, the fanatic, can want such a thing. The only peace which I am for is the peace which will not accept indignity nor disgrace but stands firmly for what is right and for the protection of country, home and family."

BOYS MAKE PLEDGE TO "KEEP IN TOUCH"

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., pledged one another to "keep close" even in the penitentiary as best they can. They have some sort of a plan locked in their hearts, they let it be known just before they left the county jail yesterday for Joliet prison.

"This is our real good bye here," Loeb told Leopold. "We've been thru a lot together, Babe. About everything, it seems to me since we used to shoot marbles."

"You and I are never going to have the associations other fellows have—wives, children, even our relatives will become a bit shadowy after a while, I expect, so we've got to keep close somehow."

"We'll find a way to keep in touch," replied Leopold. "Remember our plan, Dick. Maybe it'll work out, and we can keep in touch that way."

CONGRESSMAN MCKENZIE SPEAKS AT SAVANNA

Savanna, Ill., Sept. 12.—Congressman John C. McKenzie, member of the committee responsible for the national defense bill, was the principal speaker on the defense day program here today. He said that "defense day was not a militaristic effort but an attempt to encourage preparation for peace. Mothers should teach their boys lessons in peace, but should also inspire upon them that they are protectors of the flag. "America has never gone into a war except in the cause of humanity," he said.

WHEAT ACREAGE IN STATE TO INCREASE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Farmers of Illinois will plant on an average of five per cent less winter wheat this fall than a year ago, according to a survey made by A. J. Surrat, agricultural statistician of the department of agriculture here.

"Actual acreage sown this fall in the state may be somewhat larger than present indications if later conditions are favorable to sowing and planting," Surrat said. "The planting survey is not a forecast, but a statement based on the expressed intentions of farmers."

"For the United States, the reported intentions of farmers indicate a 7 1/2 per cent increase in acreage over that sown last year. This would make a total of about 42,912,000 acres. The estimated acreage planted in the fall of 1923 for the country as a whole was 39,993,000 acres. The pre-war average annual planting was 33,741,000.

"Illinois, Pennsylvania and Washington are the only states indicating reductions in acreages to be planted this fall. The intended plantings for the twelve most important winter wheat states, expressed as percentages of the 1923 planting, are as follows: Illinois 95, Indiana 114, Michigan 109, Missouri 105, Ohio 104, Pennsylvania 97, Nebraska 104, Kansas 108, Texas 150, Oklahoma 111, Colorado 105, Washington 99, United States 107.5 per cent."

"Reports on rye for the United States indicate an increase of 14.1 per cent. The acreage sown to rye last fall was estimated to be 4,377,000 acres. An increase of 14.1 per cent would indicate a total of 4,992,000 acres to be sown this fall. The pre-war acreage sowing was 2,562,000 acres."

RURAL CONDITIONS DECLARED DEPLORABLE

CHICAGO—Slums and other deplorable conditions of poverty, existing in the rural districts of Illinois are caused to a considerable extent by the desire to economize on the part of county officials, according to C. V. Williams, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society.

"In many counties children are forced to live in shacks of tin, whose walls keep out neither wind nor rain," Mr. Williams said in a lecture at the University of Chicago. "Excessive poverty in a family or inability to care for the children do not rouse competent agents to investigate and endeavor to ameliorate conditions. But under the state law the child must first become delinquent before the county can take care of him.

"The school situation in rural districts is another serious problem," Mr. Williams stated. "When school officials refuse to send their children to school when there is considerable work on the farm, how can we expect others to send their children."

"County commissioners do not understand social psychology. They think only of the cost of caring for the children; and endeavor to economize in every way possible. They point with pride to the low per capita cost of children's homes, and in many cases send minors to almshouses, where they are lodged with adult insane, and cripples and poverty-stricken. Often they do not have enough plates or chairs in homes for children."

Speaking of the adoption law, Williams pointed out that some judges in Cook County regarded adoption as a purely statutory matter and allowed a child to be adopted without investigation of conditions under which it is about to be subjected.

He brought out the fact that the Children's Home and Aid Society is trying to help the situation by appointing investigators to go into homes and help the child to make adjustments before the situation has gone so far that he becomes a delinquent.

NOVEL SIGNS WARN SPEEDERS AT BENTON

BENTON, Ill.—Appealing to a motorist's good sense through warning signs distributed along the road is the method adopted by Benton county road officials here to prevent speeding.

Rather pertinent signs such as "Don't speed; it is 'good morning judge' here," "This is a good road, it will cost you money if you burn it up," "Slow down, look before you weep" are placed at various points along the county highways calculated to forewarn the motorist who is tempted to speed.

It is thought that the warnings will be effective in the elimination of speeding on the highways of Franklin county.

DEFENSE DAY PROGRAM FOR ROTARY CLUB

C. J. Hemphill and Col. O. C. Smith Stressed From Different View Points Need For Review of Country's Resources.

While Americans have much to be proud of in their history there are some spots which are not so very bright. This fact was brought out in the "side lights" on "Military history, presented to the Rotary club at the Friday luncheon by Chester J. Hemphill, who served in the late war.

The second speaker of the day was Col. O. C. Smith, veteran of two wars, and long identified with the Illinois National Guard, who talked on the theme "National Defense."

R. W. Woolston, president of the club, presided and explained the purpose of Rotary to join in the government's request for the observance of Defense Day, a time for taking stock of the country's resources along the lines of military preparedness.

There was the usual mass singing and then Mrs. W. Barr Brown sang with great acceptance two

Local Defense Day Test Demonstration Is Success

Jacksonville's part in the national Defense Test Day demonstration was carried out last evening with enthusiasm on the part of the citizens and on a scale that more than met with the expectations of the committee in charge. The parade which extended practically a mile in length and which consisted of military, semi-military and other groups of the city besides a large number of floats interspersed with bands and drum and bugle corps moved off on time and was witnessed by one of the largest crowds that have been spectators at an affair of this kind for a long period of time.

It was headed by the Community band and the local howitzer company in command of Capt. Wesley R. James recruited to the required war strength number of 105 by members of the local Kiwanis club.

The line of parade began at the Dunlap Hotel and proceeded east thence south around the square and finally passing in front of the reviewing stand which had been erected immediately east of the Ayers National Bank.

The stand was occupied by Mayor E. E. Crabtree, R. W. Woolston, Capt. Walter T. Day, Rev. W. H. Marbach and Grand Chief de Gare H. E. Bradney.

Rev. W. H. Marbach acted as chairman of the evening and the program began with the "Salute to the Flag," which was given by H. A. Williamson and was repeated after him by the audience. This was followed by "The Star Spangled Banner" by the community band and community singing led by F. E. Wanamaker and W. A. Berryman. The song leaders were assisted in the singing by members of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club. Mrs. Barr Brown then pleased the crowd by a vocal selection appropriate to the occasion and Mr. Marbach yielded the chair to Mayor E. E. Crabtree.

Mayor Crabtree in introducing the speaker of the evening, Capt. Walter T. Day of Springfield, paid a fine tribute to Capt. Day's war record. Mr. Crabtree stated that the speaker was one of the first to offer himself for the officer's training camp and four months after war was declared he graduated as a second lieutenant and went across the sea and joined the Yankee Division. In six months he was at the front where his division successfully defended the Germans' offense at Belleau Woods. He also took part in such major offensives as St. Mihiel, Chateau Thierry and the Argonne Forest.

Capt. Day Speaks
Capt. Day in a clear, concise manner presented the audience with facts regarding Defense Test Day. He very ably stated why Defense Test Day should be observed. He said, he was aware from articles that have appeared in the public press throughout the nation that a considerable body of our citizenship has seen fit to criticize and condemn the exercises held this day as being a preparation for war. I am satisfied, he stated, that upon more mature consideration of the objects and purposes of this day, those persons who have been fit to criticize these exercises, are either not fully informed as to the object thereof or else are suspicious of the motive underlying such object.

For myself, I have experienced warfare in all its grim realities. I have had many of my closest friends stricken by shot and shell and have been forcibly impressed with the terrors, hardships and gruesome aspect of modern warfare. And I am frank to say that I would instantly decline to appear in this uniform before this gathering if I suspected that the present affair had as its underlying motive a preparation for another such experience. Yet it is the wisdom of not only our military men, but of our duly elected Congressmen that the surest way to prevent war is by adequate preparation for defense in case of necessity.

The holding of Defense Day is not a new thing, nor was it inaugurated upon the spur of the moment. What is known as "National Defense Act" was passed by Congress in 1920 more than four years ago, as a result of the collective wisdom of leaders in the national life and after the fullest hearing and discussion of questions, theories and the proprieties involved. It cannot justly be charged that the United States is or ever has been a militaristic nation. If all the nations of the world were as free from the charge of aggressive warfare as is the record of the United States of America, the necessity of going thru the forms which have been observed today would be wholly unnecessary.

No Selfish War Motive
The United States has never instigated nor declared war in any selfish motive. We have never engaged in warfare with the object or design of acquiring the territory then rightfully belonging to other nations. Such territory as has been acquired by the United States during the 140 years of its existence has been only such as has been received in payment of damages inflicted upon us by our aggressors, and such territory as we have acquired in that manner have promptly proceeded to civilize, educate and bestow upon them the same privileges which we as a nation enjoy.

The speaker then quoted statistics showing that other nations have larger standing armies could mobilize more men quicker, and expend more money per capita for the upkeep of an army. He said, the United States compared with other nations as a weakling. Upon any analysis of our situation is a military nation, it has been demonstrated that a charge of militarism cannot justly be lodged against us.

As a nation we have always sought peace and at no time have we had any desire to engage in warfare or commit any act of aggression against our friends and neighbors. Notwithstanding our desire for peace it has been our experience in the 140 years of our existence that at least once in twenty years we have been called upon to arm our citizens and engage in warfare for our own protection and in the maintaining of that liberty and happiness, which makes us conspicuous among the nations of the world.

Time Given in Past Wars
In each of the enumerated conflicts except the World War, adequate time was given us for the preparation of any needed defense and yet the progress of modern science, the perfection of the railroad, the ocean liner, the telegraph, the aeroplane, the radio, long range artillery, destructive bombs and lethal gases have taught us that never again in the future will we be given the opportunity to prepare a defense of our homes and liberties which has been afforded us in the past.

It was with all this in mind that Congress passed the National Defense Act of 1920. That act provided for the organization of our military machine, of three separate and distinct branches, consisting first of regular army; second, federalizing our National Guard, and third, the creation of what is known as the "Organized Reserve."

Now if the great tragedy of war should ever again be forced upon us, the rank and file of the skeleton force making up the organized reserves would be immediately filled up with soldiers who would be selected from the youth of the country. These selected soldiers would be sent to certain places of assembly, and there they would find one or more of these reserve officers to care for them.

Fortunately the great body of the American people, the millions who are neither militaristic nor pacifistic, to whom the one position is as repugnant as the other, do not look upon Defense Day as an orgy of junkerism. They see simply a test of a machine that already exists, a machine that specifications of which were drawn up four years ago.

I trust that this demonstration will inspire us all with greater patriotism, bring us to a fuller realization of the blessings which we enjoy and again demonstrate that as a nation we have been particularly blessed and at frequent intervals renew our allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the republic for which it stands.

SCHOOL FOR BLIND OBSERVES DEFENSE DAY
Dr. A. B. Applebee addressed the students of the State school for the blind in the chapel of the school yesterday morning during a National Defense Test Day program.

The chapel was crowded, for besides the students of the school a number of friends and neighbors came to take part in and to hear the program which was very inspiring.

The program was opened with mass singing of a number of patriotic songs and the audience then rose and saluted the flag and gave the pledge.

Dr. Applebee explained to the audience the reason for National Defense Test Day and why it had been designated as such by Congress. He also referred to the message of General Harry C. Hale to the school children of the United States and to the work of the Boy Scouts throughout the country, and connected that thought of loyalty and patriotism with the subject of the day.

ACCEPTS MUSICAL POSITION
Frank Collins Jr., of Virginia and a former student of Illinois college has been appointed as instructor in music at the Western Illinois Teachers' college at Macomb. Mr. Collins takes the place of Carl Crilly who has been given a leave of absence for special study in New York.

Mr. Collins is well known in musical circles of Jacksonville. He received his Bachelor's degree from Illinois Conservatory last June and received a diploma in piano from the Conservatory in 1922. Prior to that time he graduated in pipe organ at the College of Music, I. W. C. Mr. Collins is a member of the Guild of Organists.

BEREA CHURCH TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY

Dedicatory Services for New Edifice Will Be Held Tomorrow.

The newly rebuilt Berea Christian church which is located six and one half miles northeast of Jacksonville will be dedicated tomorrow. In May 1923 the ground was broken for the new building which is being presented for dedication tomorrow free of debt. Members of the building committee include L. J. Stewart, chairman; W. W. Robertson, Harrison Robinson, C. W. Swain, and Harold Stewart and it is with a great amount of pride that the members of the church point to the beautiful structure which is now completed. Rev. C. E. French will be the dedicatory and he will be assisted by Rev. M. L. Pontius.

The Berea Christian church was organized on August 15, 1852 and was known as the "Disciples of Christ on Indian Creek, meeting in Morgan School House No. 2." The first elder and minister was Charles Rowe and Joel Robinson and Wesley Corrington were the first deacons.

The timbers for the building were hewn out of the forest on Wm. Robinson's farm and the sawed lumber and rock for the foundation were hauled from Rock Creek. James F. Black was the contractor and the church was dedicated free of debt. The men at work on the building were boarded by Mrs. John Robinson.

Pastors who have served the church were Wm. R. Grant, A. H. Rice, Austin Sims, Aquilla Sims and M. M. Goode. The church was inactive for some time prior to 1904 and in September of that year C. E. French held a meeting at which there were a number of additions. The church was reorganized and Mr. French served as minister for four years. The tabernacle was built in the year 1910 while C. G. Cantrall was serving the pastorate. In March 1905, Mrs. C. E. French organized the Ladies' Aid Society which has been very active since.

The program is as follows: 10:00 Bible School, Miss Bess A. Dewees, Superintendent. 11:00 Worship. Doxology, Congregation standing. Invocation. Hymn. Scripture. Prayer. Solo—Mrs. Thomas Manches.

The work on the new incubator factory building that is to be occupied by the Jacksonville Clothing Co., will start Monday morning, with A. L. Black and Co., general contractors, Sheehan McNamara Co., the plumbing contractors, and Warwick Jones Co., heating contractors.

A contract with the general contracting company was arranged at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms yesterday afternoon, to the satisfaction of the Building Committee and the contracting company. The site for the new building, located on North Main street, was purchased yesterday afternoon from the Scott-Ayers Co., and deeds and abstracts were turned over to the Committee at that time.

The contract calls for the completion of the building in 195 days, with a penalty of $10 a day for each day over the agreed time. The building will be pushed to a rapid completion, and will immediately be occupied by the Jacksonville Clothing Co., the new manufacturing concern which has moved to this city.

Work of collecting the balance of the outstanding pledges will be started upon immediately by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, as it will require considerable capital to keep the building plans moving from this time on.
